The Ladies' Fair and Festival ended on Wednesday night, or, perhaps better, on Thursday morning, with an auction sale of a number of fancy articles presented for that purpose. The sale was conducted by W. S. Travis, to whom the ladies request us to tender their sincere thanks. The article which brought the highest price was the wreath of worsted work, before mentioned by us as having been presented by Mrs. H. M. Barnes. This work of art was bought by Mr. E. S. Williams for $40.

Altogether the Fair was a success-a much greater one, too, than the most sanguine had expected. The dance which followed it had but one fauit-if, which followed it had but one naut—it, indeed, it was not faultless—and that was its short duration. But the fatigue of the ladies, to whose arduous efforts the success was due, caused them to linger but a short time upon the scene of their triumphs. 5% 14% 14% 14% 5 15 14% 15% 10000

Below we give the names of the ladies and the amounts taken in by them: LUNCH TABLE.

The ladies who conducted the fair request us to thank, publicly, Mrs. Hoffman and Miss Gill, also Mr. E. E. Phillips for his kind assistance, and Mr. Clark, of D. C. Cushing, who has for the past fourteen months or more been in the employ of Drs. Lee and Bishop, was about leaving their employ, to become a partner of Mr. Burrage in the drug business. The withdrawal of a faithful employee from withdrawal of a faithful employee from their house was made the occasion of a substantial acknowledgment of the esteem in which Mr. Cushing was held by Drs. Bishop and Lee. These gentlemen, before allowing a severance of the business ties which had so long existed between themselves and Mr. C., presented him with a handsome gold watch and chain. The present was wholly a surprise to the recipient, who highly prizes it as a gratifying evidence of the Wholesale, Ketail prizes it as a gratifying evidence of the esteem in which he was held by the worthy donors. Mr. Cushing signalized the occasion by ordering a basket of champague, which was drank with good cheer by the donors, the recipient and their friends.

Shavings, saturated with coal-oil, had been piled up and set on fire, but providenti-ally it was discovered before the flames had obtained any headway, and prompt-ly extinguished. It is broadly hinted that the name of the villain is known. Should the outraged people of Hamilton become satisfied of the fact, a short shrift and hempen collar would be the wretch's doom. Why we have not been advised of this by telegraph, we cannot say, but Mr. Dangherty is too well known in this community for his statement to say, but Mr. Dangnerry is too well known in this community for his statement to need confirmation. While we hope the contrary, still the counterpart of such infamons secoundrels may exist in our midst, and the bare possibility ought to lend force to our remarks in another column, with regard to the necessity of instant steps being taken to not confirmation. instant steps being taken to put our firs-hose in order for immediate use.

District Count.-Henry Rives was appointed as assistant District Attorney on Thursday; and J. C. Foster was appointed to assist W. W. Bishop in the defense of the homicide Jefferson Howard. In this case considerable difficulty is found in obtaining a jury, none having as yet been impaneled. There seemed to be, on the part of most of those who were questioned as to their eligibility as were questioned as to their eligibility as jurymen, a misunderstanding as to the meaning of the term "unqualified opinion." Yesterday one man who was asked if he had an unqualified opinion on the merits of the case of Jeff, Howard, replied that he had. The Court showed that the juror did not know what unqualified meant, and that his opinion could be changed. Therefore the juror was considered eligible by the Court notwithstanding the challenge made by the defense. The defense then moved, and the prosecution seconded, the apchampagne, which was drank with good cheer by the donors, the recipient and the prosecution seconded, the appointment of a reporter, as the defense wished to have a record of the questions asked and their answers for 12 o'clock, an accident occurred in the "No. 5" hoisting works of the Meadow to that office.
